

Lifekids is a foundation for our kids. We have shown them God at home, but it's nice to be around a support group that offers them a different view point. We love picking up the boys on Sundays and hearing about what they have learned in Sunday school. The lessons are fun and engaging which Austin loves. He loves showing off his art work!

Lifekids has impacted my family in several ways. My children both suffer from anxiety and transitioning from our previous church to Lifegate was hard. The staff and volunteers loved on my kids and helped them adjust. They encouraged and helped my kids grow through weekly messages and children's camp. My daughter has now moved into the youth and has blossomed. She is now volunteering in Lifekids. My son is entering his last year and I am excited to see how God will use these volunteers to help him grow. Lifekids is a wonderful place for kids to learn and grow in their walk with God. I'm blessed to be a part of a church that invests so much in children.

Lifekids is a peace of mind. Peace in knowing that my son is being loved on by godly people, not just on Sunday morning when he's in that classroom but all through the week. Lifekids is helping me provide him with a good Christian foundation that I didn't necessarily have growing up. He has an unwavering faith that I hope he never loses. It's been amazing to watch him grow spiritually as I'm learning too. We've really been able to bond over reading and learning the Bible. He blows me away with the concept that he understand and the conversations that we have after Lifekids each week.

My kids have been involved with Lifekids in some way or another since we started coming to LG. We weren't a church going family before LG and I wasn't sure how the kids would feel about it. Lifekids was fun and interesting and they were taught Biblical principles that we talk about and mirror at home. The leadership program helped Nik discover a real joy in serving and helping with media and he was able to translate that to the youth group. The passion that you have for these kids astounds me and I could not be more grateful for LK.

Lifekids has been amazing for our kids. William brings the lessons he learns back to the house. Olivia loves to worship and say Amen at the dinner table. Being able to say things to our kids about the choices they make and them understanding the reference back to Jesus is heartwarming.
